Two Men Injured In Sunday Accident

Three Cars Are Damaged; Yerry Is Taken to Kingston Hospital

A three-car accident on Broadway near Orchard street caused slight injuries to two men and damage to three cars Sunday at 11:05 a. m., police reported.

George E. Yerry, Jr., of 133 Highland avenue, was taken to Kingston Hospital with a neck injury. X-rays disclosed the injury was not serious, and Yerry was released after treatment for shock. Yerry, who is business agent for the Metal Trades Council, A. F. of L., was at work in his office at 277 Fair street today.

The other injured man is George Thomas Kingfield, 80 West Pierpont street, who was at a standstill, with the Yerry car behind the Kingfield car, when a car driven by Donald Bradley of 33 Jarrod street, struck the rear of the Yerry car, jamming it into Kingfield's automobile, the policemen reported.

Patrolmen George Bowers and Edward Leonard investigated. They reported that all the cars were proceeding south on Broadway. A line of cars was at a standstill, with the Yerry car behind the Kingfield car, when a car driven by Donald Bradley of 33 Jarrod street, struck the rear of the Yerry car, jamming it into Kingfield's automobile, the policemen reported.

Fred A. Ruskie, 45 Dorenbach street, paid a $25 fine in city court this morning on charges of reckless driving and operating a car with a defective muffler. He was arrested at 3:35 a. m. today by Patrolmen Francis Fagan and Walter Van Stenburgh.

Men Are Told Thursday at 4:10 P. M. Yard to Discontinue Operations

The Rondout Shipyard Corporation, 590 Abel street, closed down all operations at the end of last week, it was announced today by the local office of that corporation. The firm had been employing 12 men, all of whom were laid off, a spokesman for the company said.

George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent for the Kingston Metal Trades Council, confirmed the fact that the men had been discharged. He said the men, members of Local 1775, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, A. F. of L., had been called into the shipyard office at 4:10 p. m. Thursday and told they were finished.

The Rondout Shipyard Corporation is more generally known locally as "Christie's." President of

Hirohito Observes Pearl Harbor Day

(By The Associated Press.)
Pearl Harbor Day, with its bitter memories, was given a subdued observance by Americans yesterday.

At the Hawaiian base itself, brief ceremonies for a group of less than 200 were held in an open air chapel in view of the harbor where six years before the Japanese struck treacherously.

In Japan where the war plot was hatched, an appeal for world peace was sounded by Emperor Hirohito. He looked out upon the consequences of his nation's rash act as he did so—the ruins of Hiroshima, and dressing thousands there, he said:

"I hope you will try to establish a peaceful nation and contribute to world peace."

Thatcher Describes Intricate Work in Executing Insignia

Famed Woodstock Expert Tells of Help From Bence, Others in Making Piece

A saga of craftsmanship, a giant replica of the collar insignia worn by members of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, was erected above the main entrance to the state armory on Manor avenue Wednesday. It all began with a little brass pin.

The insignia, reproduced in white pine and brass, measures six feet by five feet. It was begun as a state art project under the W.P.A. in 1937 by Edward J. Thatcher, Woodstock, nationally prominent crafts expert. After many delays, it was completed recently with the gold finishing applied by Joseph B. Moore and John C. Miller, Kingston painters, who used 26 books of gold leaf to complete the job.

Thatcher worked on the insignia, which depicts the two crossed cannons with the figures 156 mounted above the intersection, during 1937 and 1938. At that time he was assigned to other work, and the project lay idle for a year. He resumed work on the insignia early in 1940, completing it September 3, 1941.

Bence Kept Insignia

At that time, local units of the 156th had already been called in to active service, and the armory was used to house the New York State Guard units. Armorer, Matthew F. Bence retained the insignia, completed except for the gold finishing, at the armory, not knowing at the time whether or not the armory would ever again be used to house the 156th Battalion.

Designations of National Guard units are sometimes changed after a war, as was the case with Company M, Kingston's unit, before World War I. But, luckily, as Bence says, Kingston retained its designation, and at the close of the war set to work finishing the emblem. Miller and Moore were engaged for the task of applying the gold leaf, which they finished recently.

Governor Wouldn't Let Go

Thatcher has done other work for the home of the local National Guard units. He did a beautiful hammered aluminum punch bowl, three feet in diameter, and a ladel. According to Bence, this bowl was once sent to Albany for an exhibition, where it caught the eye of the governor, Herbert H. Lehman. Bence said the governor liked it so much, that he ordered it to be made. It came back to the local armory to be made another one, exactly like it, for the governor. In addition, Thatcher also executed the insignia in bronze in the foyer and the bronze clock face.

How It Was Done

Here is Thatcher's own story of how he constructed the cross-cannon insignia, as told to the Freeman:

"This was by far the largest piece of work I have ever undertaken and certainly one of the most interesting.

"No drawings for this particular insignia were available and the only design I had to work from was the little brass insignia about one and one-quarter inches high and one and one-quarter inches long.

BPW Grants $1,200 Pay Increase to Ernest A. Steuding

Resolution Advances Salary to $5,700 With Top of $6,000; Reporter Shown Minutes

A salary increase of $1,200 has been granted Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of the Board of Public Works by the commissioners of that board. The increase took effect November 15, the day after a resolution was passed by the commissioners meeting in executive session, according to the minutes of that meeting.

The resolution, offered by Commissioner Samuel Barnett and passed unanimously, provides for a minimum annual salary of $5,700 and a maximum of $6,000 for the superintendent of the Board of Public Works. Formerly, the superintendent's salary was $4,500, according to the secretary's records.

In addition to the $5,700, Steuding will be granted a yearly increment of $200 on January 1, the resolution provides.

Press Was Excluded

This action was taken in executive session, with members of the press excluded, following the regular meeting of the board on November 14. It was not made public by the board.

Asked whether or not such a raise had been granted, Mayor William F. Edelmann, president of the B. P. W., this morning declined to confirm the fact, but gave permission to a Freeman reporter to examine the minutes of the Board of Public Works commissioners' meetings, after it was pointed out that such records are public property.

The minutes showed that on November 14, the commissioners adjourned into executive session, after which "President Edelmann spoke about granting an increase in salary and salary range to Superintendent of the Board of Public Works, Ernest A. Steuding."

Resolution in Full

The resolution offered by Commissioner Barnett, as recorded in the minutes, reads in full:

WHEREAS the commissioners of the Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston, N. Y., have made a study of corresponding salaries of superintendents of boards of public works of cities

Heated Saturday Night Session Results in Report Being Disregarded; Schneider Says Public for Meters

Kingston will keep all of the 743 parking meters now in its possession, the Common Council decided by a strict party vote during a short but heated session Saturday evening.

This action was taken after the Council refused to accept, also by a party vote, the report of the special committee on parking meters submitted by committee chairman Alderman Victor H. Roth. This report recommended the retention of 500 meters, and listed several areas from which meters now installed should be removed.

The seven Democratic members of the Council voted to keep all the meters, while five Republican aldermen voted to return some

Henry D. Fagher To Retire Jan. 1 As Cashier of Bank

Rondout National Bank Officer Was Employed for 30 Years; Started as Bookkeeper

Henry D. Fagher announced today his retirement as of January 1, 1948 as cashier and vice president of the Rondout National Bank.

Mr. Fagher has been connected with the Rondout bank for the past 30 years, having joined the bank in November 1917 as bookkeeper. Serving in that capacity for a number of years he then became teller. Palmer Canfield, Sr. was president of the bank during these years. On January 1, 1924, Mr. Fagher was named cashier by the late James F. Dwyer, who was then bank president.

Prior to his bank positions, from 1910 to 1917, Mr. Fagher was a purser on the Steamboat Benjamin B. O'Dell, a passenger and freight boat which plied the Hudson river between Kingston and New York. Before 1910 Mr. Fagher was purser on the Steamboat Baldwin of the Central Hudson being the youngest man to hold a job of this nature along the Hudson River.

In his 30 years connection with the Rondout National Bank, Mr. Fagher has made many warm friends, who sought his advice on financial matters. Conscientious, capable and efficient, he has served the bank in the highest ethical. Under his cashiership, the bank has grown to one of the largest banking institutions of the city.

Mr. Fagher also has been devoted to civic improvements of the city and is treasurer of the Kingston Rotary Club.

James A. Dwyer, president of the Rondout National Bank, on behalf of the board of directors today paid high tribute to the services of Mr. Fagher during his many years in the banking institution.

Girl Scouts Plan Candle Lighting as Symbol of Peace

On Christmas Eve, the Girl Scouts of Ulster county, their friends and leaders, will have candles burning in the windows of their homes as a symbol of their prayer at 6 p. m. that day for "Peace on Earth and Good Will Toward Men."

This will be the culmination of the Girl Scout Candlelight Ceremony which Ulster County Girl Scouts are observing for the first time this year.

At the December meeting of the Ulster County Girl Scouts Council, Miss Hazel Metcalf, executive director, lighted the candles of the council members. Each white candle is adorned with a trefail holder, the emblem of the Girl Scouts.

Each council member then recited a prayer.

I.C.C. Authorizes Fare Boosts For West, New Haven Lines

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized increases in first class passenger fares on western railroads and in passenger coach fares on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The increase effective on all lines operating west of the Mississippi river amounts to 6.06 per cent for travel in sleeping and parlor cars.

This brings these charges even with the rate schedules authorized for first class travel in the east last June.

The coach fare increase granted to the New Haven involves a 15 per cent hike over the present coach fare rate of 25 cents per mile, raising the rate to 2.875 cents a mile.

The New Haven Railroad was included among the 60 eastern carriers which were permitted to increase both coach and Pullman fares an average 10 per cent last summer.

The I.C.C. subsequently authorized a temporary general 10 per cent increase in freight rates for all railroads. The roads are now seeking a 30 per cent permanent raise in the freight schedules.

The New Haven Railroad told the commission several weeks ago, however, that while the freight rate increases would be helpful to its financial position, it is largely a passenger carrying line and that it would require a further revision in passenger charges to meet increased operating expenses.

In both cases acted upon today, the I.C.C. authorized the increases to be made effective on five days' notice to the public. Coach fares in

Underground Head Said to Have Been Slain When Motor Convoy Was Attacked

League Holds Meet

Arabs Converge Upon Cairo to Decide on Future Steps

Jerusalem, Dec. 8 (AP)—Eight Jews and an Arab died today in bitter, continuing communal strife over the partition of Palestine while both sides intensified mobilizations for the expected showdown.

Unofficial tallies show 90 persons have been killed in nine days in wrangles over the future of the country, which the British said they intended to quit as mandate power next May 15.

Five Jews were killed and a number of Arab stores and houses were set afire in a renewal of the fighting on the border between Jewish Tel Aviv and Arab Jaffa.

Yehoshua Bloberman, a prominent officer of the underground Hagana defence force, was reported by Jewish sources to have been killed when the motor convoy in which he was traveling was attacked after police had searched the convoy for arms. An Arab, stabbed by Jews in Tel Aviv two days ago while breaking curfew, died of injuries. Another Jew was killed by gunfire, and another was stabbed to death.

Numerous Jews and Arabs were wounded in sporadic exchanges of automatic weapons and small arms fire in various parts of the country.

Killed During Night

Seven Jews and an Arab were killed during the night.

Sharing the spotlight with the situation in Palestine were developments in Cairo, where leaders of the seven member nations of the Arab League met to decide the steps they should take to prevent implementation of the partitioning plan.

Some observers thought that the meeting might fix a zero hour for a general Arab uprising throughout the Middle East.

Crowds of Arabs were reported lining up before "recruiting centers" in all Middle Eastern countries, and in Palestine the Jewish press called Jewish youths to register for security duty at registration places which will be opened tomorrow.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, Extreme Underground Group, indicated that it was ready to unite with the more moderate Hagana in the event of an open Arab-Jewish war. Irgun officials issued a communique declaring:

"There is no doubt that if this war should break out it will be for the very existence and future of all Jews. In such a war Hebrew forces will be united."

The communique was issued in an envelope inscribed with the words "On His Majesty's Service" and rubber stamped from the office of the controller of light industries in the Palestine government.

A Palestine government spokesman meanwhile denied press reports that British forces would begin a partial withdrawal from Palestine on Dec. 15.

"The only movement of security forces in Palestine," he said, "is the withdrawal of British and Arab police from Tel Aviv, Rehovot and Ramat Gan area."

Would Be Replaced

These police, he said, would be replaced by Jewish policemen under direct control of the Palestine government.

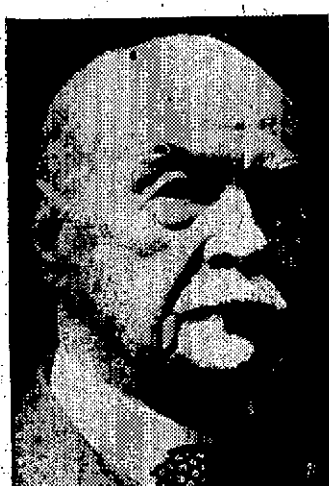

The growing death toll and the Arab League meeting in Cairo cast a pall over the Jewish celebration of Chanukah—the eight day "feast of lights" which began last evening. The feast, which commemorates a Hebrew military victory in 165 B. C., customarily is the occasion for dances and parties, but this phase of the celebration was largely ignored this year.

British sources, meanwhile, said

Dr. Butler Dies At Hospital; His Funeral on Campus

Ex-President of Columbia Had Been Ill 10 Days; Was Blind in His Last Few Years

NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER
New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, who died early yesterday of bronchial pneumonia, will be buried tomorrow after funeral services at 11 a. m. (E.S.T.) in St. Paul's Chapel on the campus of Columbia University which he served as president for 44 years.

The eminent educator and world peace advocate, 85 years old and blind in his last years, died at St. Luke's Hospital where he had been taken 10 days earlier after an attack of indigestion.

Dr. Butler, president emeritus of Columbia since his retirement in 1945, requested that his funeral service be held in the chapel, although it seats only about 700 persons.

The Rev. Raymond C. Knox, chaplain emeritus of the university, will conduct the service. Private burial will be in Cedar Lawn cemetery, Paterson, N. J.

Dr. Butler's death, said the body will not lie in state.

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to become president of the university shortly.

Dr. Butler, a native of Elizabeth, N. J., entered Columbia as a freshman at the age of 16 and from that time almost his entire life was spent there. He was decorated by 15 foreign nations and received honorary degrees from 38 institutions of learning.

Numerous expressions of regret at Dr. Butler's death have been

Wood Says Threats Made by Two Men

Howard Wood, 73 Franklin street, reported to police at 3:16 a. m. this morning that two men tried to beat up him and his girl friend as they were standing on the corner of Broadway and Downs street.

The men were from a car with an out-of-town license plate, Wood said.

A radio car was sent, but the men had disappeared, police said.

Guinness' Yacht, Fast in Port, Awaits Outcome of Tax Suit Based on War Idleness

Seattle, Dec. 8 (AP)—A proud yacht, where once the flower of Great Britain's aristocracy and wealth had their pleasure, is the reluctant landmark of Seattle's Portage Bay.

The luxurious quarters are all closed and bolted; the seal of the U.S. Customs has been placed on her store of fine liquors.

The huge black and white craft, with her gilded eagle figurehead, her four masts pointing skyward, her painted ports and her towering blunt stern, has been at the Seattle Yacht Club for more than eight years.

It was in September 1939 that the thunderclap of war shook into place the bars that first imprisoned the Fantome of Southampton, and now a tax levied by King County (Seattle), lack of dollars and the shortage of labor in Britain have combined to hold her fast.

The Fantome once had a crew of 34. Now there are only three—Chief Engineer Gilbert Long; his wife Mary, and Albert Hoskin, the Bo'sun.

The yacht's owner, A. E. Guinness, waits in Britain, his planned voyage to the South Seas in the spring of 1940 still unfulfilled.

Long came to the Fantome 20 years ago when she was the Flying Dutchman, built for the Duke of Westminster at Livorno, Italy. It was "in the Duke's time" that Long received a prized memento from one of the Fantome's most famous guests—Winston Churchill. It was the statesman's own T-square.

Long signed on as fourth engineer and electrician. His career with the schooner has encompassed

Freighter Is at Sea With Huge Cargo Of Food for Europe

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—Eight million pounds of food collected on the Friendship Train was en route to France today on the U. S. Lines freighter American Leader, with arrival at Le Havre scheduled about a week before Christmas.

After a pier ceremony, the freighter sailed yesterday with the first Friendship Train shipment for the hungry.

Ludovic Chancel, French consul general at New York, accepted the pressed thanks to the American people and the agencies involved in the collection and to the steamship company for transporting the food without charge.

The ceremony was recorded for future beaming to France in the "Voice of America" broadcasts.

On the side of the ship were large white letters reading "Friendship Cargo" and "Gifts of food from U. S. to France."

The freighter, then partially loaded with friendship contributions, sailed from Philadelphia for New York ten days ago and the loading was completed from a stockpile here.

Three more ships are set to carry more of the 500-odd railroad carloads of food to France and Italy. The next shipment, scheduled for December 12 aboard an American Export Lines ship, will be to Italy.

In announcing the vacancies for more students anxious to learn about the field of electricity on all levels, Mr. Hoderath listed the various subjects which are taught and invited those interested to contact him either in Room V-102, Vocational Building or by telephone, 1884, on either Monday or Wednesday evening.

Subjects Available
All branches of the electrical field are covered in the present list of subjects which are taught including annunciator, signal and light wiring for beginners. "Equipment is available," Mr. Hoderath said, "for the student to set up and wire typical jobs in these divisions."

It also was announced that elementary electrical theory may be studied at the school in addition to the shop work thus coordinating the theory with actual job experience. However, theory alone may be studied by the scholar. Equipment also is available for the construction and wiring of simple radio receivers for the students while learning theory.

The study of care and repairs of electrical appliances is available for the layman. Mr. Hoderath commented. Students must provide their own equipment for this work, however.

Advanced students may pursue work in advanced electrical theory, A.C. and D.C. motor theory, motor winding, reconnecting and repair. Advanced work also may be given in communication, A.C. D.C. motor control and industrial electronics for those working at the trade, the night school director revealed.

Sits, Seeks Santa

On a 144-hour vigil for Santa Claus, steepjack Harry Frechette is pictured atop flagpole of the Paterson, N. J., city hall annex. The city's merchants arranged for Santa to arrive in a helicopter. Frechette has an electric blanket to keep him warm and a loudspeaker to keep waiting crowds informed of Santa's progress.

as worn on the collar of the uniform. "First I took a photograph of this full size, and after developing the negative, put it in my stereopticon as a lantern slide, so that when the image was thrown on a sheet of paper, I could trace around it and thus get a perfectly proportioned drawing."

"To see what the finished carved insignia would look like, I first made an exact scale, 18-inch model. In this model all the details were worked out very carefully, even to the brass braces for the numbers and those used to bolt the larger one to the brick wall."

Liked It Very Much
"I then took the model down to the Armory, hung it on the wall and called Major Joseph 'Pat' Captain Charles Behrens, and Bence in to see it. I am happy to say they liked it very much."

"Returning to my shop I used the larger drawing to trace the design full size on a sheet of wall board, sawed this out on my band and jig saws, and then guided it and painted it with shadows so that from a distance it looked rounded."

"We hung this on the tower outside the armory at various heights and determined the best position for the final insignia."

"Then I started work on the large final model of the insignia. This was to be made of white pine, braced in back with brass and gold leafed when it was finished. The clean white pine called pattern pine costs more than mahogany and had to be thoroughly seasoned."

"Although all the carving was done here in my shop, the work was so large and heavy that I had to take it down to Scriber's mill for some very friendly and efficient help."

"The numbers I sawed out here in my own shop and then started carving. That was a very pleasant job with the small of clean pine shavings as the chips and curls fell away from the tools."

"It was a satisfaction to have achieved that piece of work for the National Guard—and it all came from a little brass pin which Mr. Bence found for me at the Armory."

the corporation is F. E. Graue-willer of New York city, according to Yerry, and the shipyard is one of a string operated by the Christie Scow Corporation.

The Carpenters' Union, Yerry said, objected to the short notice given the men, and the men received word that the main office had reconsidered, and all reported to work this morning, Yerry said, but were told to go home.

Yerry added that there had been no union trouble at the shipyard until this layoff. Commenting on the layoff, Yerry said, "I believe this is a very excellent example as to why unions exist, and should exist. This is free enterprise carried to the nth degree."

Council to Act on Claims of Policemen

The Common Council recessed its December session until December 20 at 7:30 p. m. The meeting was set at that time to act upon claims of the policemen for their salary increase which will be due them for the period from December 1 to 15, inclusive. The money for the difference in the old salary of members of the police force and the new salary schedule voted in November must be raised by special act of the Council, since it was not included in the budget for 1947.

four owners and voyages through the Mediterranean, around Scotland and Ireland, in the Baltic; across the Atlantic and through the Panama Canal, up the West Coast of the United States to British Columbia and Alaska and finally to Seattle.

Then in mid-July, 1939, Guinness left for England after taking a life membership in the Seattle Yacht Club. The Fantome dropped anchor in Portage Bay, to be moved only once since, to be dry-docked for repairs.

After war broke out, the crew started home in small groups, to do their bit. There was a standby crew of 13, then eight, then four—Long, his wife, Hoskin, and Henry Haines, an older, who died last year.

Then began the vigil of the Longs in Seattle, six thousand miles from home.

The Fantome was offered to the United States Navy, but her 11-knot speed was too slow.

The war years passed. Meantime, Mary Long worked in the British American relief offices, and the Longs sent home all the packages of food and clothing.

British regulations would permit. The mail brought pictures of growing grandsons, of weddings, of a baby granddaughter.

The Fantome's long stay started citizens asking if she paid taxes. So a year ago the assessor set a valuation of $200,000 on the half-black-long yacht and billed the owner for $17,500 in taxes.

Guinness fled suit to restrain the county from taxing the vessel and obtained an injunction to prevent her sale for taxes until his suit was argued.

The owner's action argued that the vessel should be exempt from taxation on the grounds that she was a pleasure craft of British registry and that he was forced to leave her in Seattle because British wartime regulations, still sheep.

New York Begins Its Sale of 1948 Plates

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 8 (AP)—New York began selling 1948 automobile license plates today.

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles warned motorists not to display the plates on cars until Jan. 1.

The 1947 passenger and commercial plates expire at midnight, Jan. 31. Registrations for buses, taxicabs and ambulances expire Dec. 31, and dealer and transporter plates, Jan. 10.

For the first time since 1941, two plates will be issued for cars, motorcycles and trailers, however, will bear only one plate for another year.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This at Home

Here's an old home mixture your mother probably used, but for real results, it is still one of the most effective and dependable for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll swear by it. It's no trouble. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and 1 cup water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so easy! Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and fill up with syrup. This makes a full pint of truly splendid cough medicine, and gives you you in every way.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Pinex Saves Money. Comforting Relief. Easy To Mix.

SAYS Personal's YES MAN

When I say that I'm sold on local people my statement is based on knowledge — on the hundreds of loans I've made to them during the past 12 months, many on salary alone, others on car or furniture.

I know that folks in this community are reliable and use common sense in managing their affairs. That's why I can say "Yes" to 4 out of 5 who ask me for a loan—often times making loans that others won't.

Don't borrow unnecessarily, but if increased living expenses are making things difficult, a loan may be the sensible solution to your problem. If it is, telephone or come in today.

Selling is not enough. We like to serve and at Christmas it's a special pleasure

It only takes a minute or two for our wrapping experts to box up and pretty up your gifts the Mayfair way. If you can spare these few moments, we can. "Our time is your time."

GIFT WRAPPING EXTRAORDINARY

and extraordinary gifts, too!

'Tis said the recipient of a gift from our shop doesn't have to look for the name MAYFAIR on the box anymore—the unique wrapping with the distinctive bow gives us away! But originators of a system are usually copied so this Christmas we'll make doubly sure the receiver of your gift is sure it's from here—we're putting our label on every box!

Our girls would think it a holiday sin not to ask you to gift-wrap your purchase. It's not a routine with them, it's a genuine pleasure! This service has never cost a customer a single penny—we sell nationally known brands at standard prices and lower—and it's good advertising for the MAYFAIR. This service is our pride and joy and believe us, even in the Christmas rush, "our time is your time."

A Printer's Prayer
To the Great Printer who prints in all colors of the rainbow and whose type faces are stars and clouds, autumn leaves and sunbeams, snowflakes and flowers, this is my prayer:
That I may SET-UP my life to the MEASURE of a man;
That I may have the courage, win or lose, to follow the RULES of the game;
That I may POINT my life toward the things that count;
That I may LOCK-UP within my heart idle tales; gossip and words that hurt;
That I may MAKE READY for the opportunities to serve that come my way;
That I may REGISTER in my memory the splendor of sunsets, the glory of friendship, the thrill of great music and the mental lift of inspiring thoughts;
That I may PRESS forward in the spirit of adventure toward new horizons of achievement;
That I may WORK AND TURN out worthy accomplishments;
That the IMPRESSIONS I make on the white pages of time may encourage, cheer and inspire all those who cross my path;
That I may BIND together in my own life all those positive qualities that make for happy, creative, triumphant living;
And finally, O Master of Printers, help me avoid the disgrace of making PI of my life and guide me safely by the yawning mouth of the HELL BOX.

TRUMAN WORRYING

Harry Truman is worried about inflation.

He has committed himself to the Marshall Plan. He has blocked tax reduction. He maintains, by Senator Byrd's estimate, about 700,000 needless employees on the public payroll. He makes no move to slow down paper-money presses. Twice since the war he has sent prices upward by encouraging union bosses to pressure employers for more pay.

Now reports say Mr. Truman is about to get the Federal Reserve Board to shut down gently on bank credits to stem inflation.

Shakespeare said it: "O, consistency, thou art a jewel!" Drying up bank credits admittedly might stop inflation, just as joblessness shut it off soon after the market crash of 1929 and just as the Federal Reserve Board, by its own statement, deliberately precipitated the depression of 1920.

But taking out of the buyer's pocket the money with which to buy, will not put beef on his table nor a car in his garage.

Such tampering is like playing with a "dud"; you never know when it will blow up in your face.

Fire the Drones

The answer to inflation is the same as it was last year and the year before; more production. If Mr. Truman would like to head off the Truman Inflation he should release the 700,000 drones from the federal payroll so they can get into productive jobs and help create wealth.

Industrial reports say many factories need more labor. They could not produce more if they had more material unless they could get more hands. Mr. Truman could help them by releasing the excess personnel.

The President's decision not to risk any more inflation—if he now can stop his own runaway train—has a political side, as has everything in Washington in this pre-election year. Democratic Party publicity men have been counting on inflation as a vote getter. It has been "Republican inflation."

Now, in preparation for the President's plan to do something about bank credits, National Democratic Chairman McGrath sounds the new "line":

We are experiencing a "Republican boom and bust" economy.

Playing Safe

If inflation continues, blame the Republicans for having opposed price controls.

Appropriations committee gets out of hand and brings a depression—blame Republicans in advance, for a "bust" program.

That's playing the publicity the safe way if it fools enough people.

Obviously, what the President wants is to find a way to put over the Marshall Plan without skyrocketing already sky-high prices. Congress clearly is not going to grant the price state controls he demanded, and which he thought would stop the flood of inflation; so he turns to the plan of drying up credits or loans.

The Marshall Plan has Mr. Truman in a tight spot. Shipping away to Europe several billion dollars worth of goods would pinch every housewife and every other buyer. It would surely send prices still higher, controls or no controls, and even if the Federal Reserve Board reduced the volume of bank loans a lot or a little, men and women would not be happy about the whole thing. It would be a good way for somebody to get hurt in an election year.

Same Prices As in October

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 8 (UP)—New York state farmers received about the same prices last month for products as in October, although production costs continued to rise, the State Agriculture Department reports.

The price index of 274 was approximately five per cent higher than that a year ago, a federal-state survey released yesterday shows. But costs generally rose "much more," the report said. The "most significant" cost increases were in grain, the report noted.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Remer of 130 Fenmore street, Brooklyn, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Annabelle Remer, to Daniel Basch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Basch of Hurley.

Coterie Plans Christmas Party
For Friday with Mrs. Shelley Coterie made plans for its annual Christmas party at its meeting Saturday afternoon with Mrs. M. R. Coutant, Emerson street. The party will be held Friday night at the home of Mrs. Alva Shelley, Furace street, with the committee of Mrs. Arthur Russell, chairman, Mrs. Frank W. Thompson, Mrs. Charles A. Terwilliger, Miss Mabel Hale and Mrs. Shelley, arranging the evening. Each member is asked to bring a gift for exchange.

The next meeting of the club will be January 3 at the home of Major Helena Clearwater. Mrs. Charles A. Terwilliger will have the paper on the subject, "My Eyes Have a Cold Nose."

The paper for the afternoon on Chamber Music was given by Mrs. Harry G. Smith. She explained that it was not originally designed for performance in church or theatre but for private entertainment of the royal families. "It is the finest form of Absolute music," she said. It began a steady advance in the 18th century when there was a marked improvement in solo instruments. The classic suite of the 17th century was a prelude and five dances which developed to the sonata form. Trios were written for violin, piano and cello by Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven and Brahms who also were outstanding for their quartet work when a second violin and viola were added to the violin and cello. A quintet was formed by adding a piano and Schumann, Brahms, Franck and Dvorak were famous for this form. Sextets, septets and octets were also written after which the ensembles became orchestras. Modern composers mentioned were Hindemith and Shostakovich.

Junior League Has Film for Schools

"Titan," an educational incentive film, was shown by the Kingston Junior League Friday in schools 3, 4, 7 and 8. The film will be shown in the other four schools later in the season. The film is produced by Children's Productions, Palo Alto, Calif., and is the first to be made entirely with child actors. It is the story of a boy artist who finally reaches his goal after many trials and hardships. The film has been rented by the Junior League as a service to local public schools.

For Her: Gifts She Can Wear
Proclaim 'New Look'

There's the "new look" to fashion apparel gifts for Christmas. Gifts for a lucky young woman (above) include an enormous black suede handbag with three compartments for a globetrotter's passports, papers and change. On the nearby table are a two-toned silk print scarf, suede gauntlet gloves with oversized cuffs and a jewelry case of Moroccan leather. A black lace-trimmed silk nightgown and

Gifts of apparel which shout fashion's new look bid for top place this year in a girl's Christmas sock.

Holiday - marked are gold-threaded black lace mitts for evening wear and suede gloves with over-sized gauntlet cuffs for day-time. Catering to the lady's keen awareness of fashion are new globe-trotter handbags combining suede and calf; two-toned scarves of interchangeable color; and belts Midas-touched with gold which are style-wise in belittling a waist. If a gift has to be swank to bowl over a girl, there are new Moroccan leather jewelry cases with matching felt covers that will do the trick. Cases for a lady's treasures have multiple-division trays which keep the line strictly drawn between her trifles and her real "joints." Bewitching black lingerie sets, which most women seldom get unless someone splurges on their behalf, are lace-trimmed with real Chantilly and are hand-made to the last seam. A girl who is good at guiding Santa to the shoe counter can have feminine fatigue evening slippers of black crocheted black catin heels. New fur accessories of imaginative design suggests gifts calculated to raise a style-conscious girl's blood pressure by several counts. One is a swirled mink earmuff which takes up where new millinery leaves off. The muff keeps one ear warm while a side-slanted hat takes care of the other.

Another type of fur accessory making a pre-holiday debut is the wrap of Maximilian's design which is an attic-revived, embroidered Spanish shawl lined with ermine.

Rochester Philharmonic Plays Concert Sunday
Afternoon Under Direction of Erich Leinsdorf

The Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Erich Leinsdorf will present a concert in Kingston Sunday afternoon, 3 o'clock at Kingston High School. This concert will be part of the orchestra's December tour and will include works by Weber, Beethoven, Strauss and Tchaikovsky. This will be the second in the Kingston Community Concert Association series; admission by membership card only.

Mr. Leinsdorf, conductor of the Rochester Philharmonic is one of the country's youngest and most outstanding symphony conductors. This is his first season with this orchestra which is now celebrating its 25th anniversary. Still in his early thirties, he has already conducted practically every major symphony orchestra in the country and abroad. For five years he was head of the Wagnerian wing at the Metropolitan Opera, after which he was permanent conductor of the Cleveland Orchestra.

When he was with the Metropolitan, Mr. Leinsdorf averaged 55 performances a year, in addition to broadcasts, recordings and appearances with such orchestras as the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Los Angeles Symphony and the Chicago Symphony. He conducted both French and Italian opera at the San Francisco Opera Company. His work is also familiar to radio audiences through his many appearances with the NBC Symphony Orchestra, the CBS Symphony Orchestra and the WOR Sinfonietta. This fall he opened the CBS Sunday evening "Invitation to Music" series.

During the past eighteen months Mr. Leinsdorf made two trips to Europe to conduct his first concert there in nine years. These tours took him to England where he conducted the London Philharmonic Orchestra on tour through the British Isles, and to Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Austria.

For the Kingston concert Mr. Leinsdorf will conduct the Rochester Philharmonic in the following selections:
Overture to "Der Freischutz," Carl Maria von Weber; Symphony No. 4 in B Flat Major (Op. 60), Ludwig Van Beethoven; Tene Poem "Don Juan," Op. 20, Richard Strauss; Theme and Variations from Suite No. 3 in G, Opus 55, Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky.

Christmas Tea Held

The Inoc Society of the First Dutch Reformed Church Women's Guild sponsored a tea and food sale in Ithaca Hall at the church Friday afternoon. Decorations were in keeping with the Christmas season. The tea table was arranged with a centerpiece of evergreens, white reindeer and white dove flanked by large white candles, tied with holly berries and cones.

Those in charge were Mrs. Hiram F. Whitney, Mrs. Edward C. DeWitt, Mrs. M. Donald Lane, Mrs. Harry Halvorsen, Mrs. Ward Brigham, Mrs. Richard Dave and Mrs. Arthur J. Laidlaw.

During the afternoon a musical program was given of solos, "Take Joy Home," by Carolyn Bassett; and "Mr. Piper," by Pearl Curran sung by Miss Marjorie Hinkley; "Into the Night," Clara Edwards and American Lullaby, Gladys Rich, sung by Mrs. Harry C. Seitz. Mrs. Raymond H. Rignall was accompanist.

Public Invited To Hear Indian Speaker at Y.W.

Miss Evelyn Yellow Robe of the speech department at Vassar College will speak at an open meeting of Business and Professional Girls Club Y.W.C.A. Wednesday night, 7:45 o'clock. Her subject will be "American Indians." She is a Sioux Indian whose father was one of the first principals in a government school of Indian children. He sent his two daughters to schools with other white children, rather than have them segregated. Both are now teachers.

Miss Yellow Robe has a master's degree in psychology and speech at Vassar. This past summer she worked with speech difficulties of the Indians on her own South Dakota Reservation. She was chosen for a feature article in the October "Mademoiselle" magazine.

The regular supper for the club members will be held at 6:10 p. m.

and after the program the members will do their share to decorate the Y.W.C.A. for Christmas.

Club Notices

Tax Refund May Be Yours For Figuring

Are you one of the three out of every five taxpayers who received a refund on last year's tax return? Maybe you're entitled to get some money back this year, too. Tax experts agree that while the salary withholding plan is the best system yet devised, the resulting tax payments may be wrong in many cases.

Because of circumstances, which are different in every case, YOU may be paying too much tax this year.

Were your medical expenses especially high? Did you take a loss on a bad debt? Was a darling little exemption born in your family?

If you are on the withholding plan, you should receive your statement of taxes already deducted by the end of January. This is known as form W-2 and may be filed as a return.

To get a refund, however, you must fill out form 1040 which gives you a chance to request a refund on the basis of expenses that you list.

How to figure your medical expenses? What constitutes an exemption? How you can save money on the 1947 return? See our helpful 40-page booklet No. 206, written for you by tax expert Henry M. Ryan, C.P.A. Shows tax forms, gives examples and hundreds of valuable suggestions.

Daniel J. Bittner of 32 Newkirk avenue, has returned from a month's vacation in California. En route he visited New Orleans, Grand Canyon, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake City and Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Schryver of 254 Albany avenue, left Newark Sunday on the Miamian Atlantic Coast Line to spend the winter at Hollywood and Miami, Fla.

Joseph Robb of Whiteport spent Thanksgiving Day in Jersey City. Mrs. Elsie Robb and sons, John and Renwick of Whiteport, spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. J. Stout of Poughkeepsie.

Among the new students registered at Thaca College are Miss Robert J. Carter, 14 Wrenkoop Place, and Gustav Koch, 131 West Chester street.

Turkey Supper

The annual turkey supper and bazaar will be held at Holy Cross Church Wednesday beginning at 5:15 p. m. and continuing until all are served. Mrs. Herbert Cogswell, telephone 2637, is general chairman and reservations may be telephoned to her. The bazaar will include many articles suitable for Christmas gifts.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

TIPS FOR SERVICE

These following are merely a sample of the protests received against a comment made in this column not so long ago. The letter says: "I heartily disagree with your answer 'No-never' in regard to tipping a service-station attendant. Have you considered just how much free service is given at one of these stations—checking batteries and oil, putting in tires, filling radiators with water, giving information, etc., for which the attendant receives no extra pay? It seems to me he not only deserves a tip, but he earns it."

I agree with the writer. My answer applied solely to the buyer of gasoline and to the attendant who did nothing further than sell it. For all extra services rendered, commensurate tips are certainly in order.

Black At Wedding.
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to wear black accessories at a wedding? I am wearing a red suit and would like to wear black shoes and black hat and carry a black purse. I am not a member of the family.

Answer: The only taboo is against black so somber as to be mistaken for mourning. If the black is lightened by either white or a color, it is quite all right.

Correcting Another's Mispronunciations
Dear Mrs. Post: I have a dear friend, an elderly woman, who moves in one of our city's best circles of society. This woman made her own position in life and is self-educated. There are certain words she always mispronounces and I have overheard people remarking about it behind her back. Now would it be proper for me to take this woman aside and tell her how to pronounce the words she mispronounces? Or would I be taking too big a chance of offending her?

Answer: If these mispronunciations are just colloquialisms which your friend has brought from another part of the country, then you easily can tease her about them, because they are not really wrong. However, if the mispronunciations are illiteracies, it would be impossible to say very much, especially to an elderly woman.

Mrs. Post says, "An afternoon tea is most popular, as well as the simplest expression of hospitality that exists." How to give a tea is explained in Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-27. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her in care of the Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Traditional Music From The Messiah Sung by Oratorio

The Christmas season is more complete in Kingston now that the Oratorio Society sings the Christmas portion of The Messiah, G. F. Handel's great oratorio. The society augmented by singers from the vicinity who joined with the group for this special service, sang this music Sunday night at Fair Street Reformed Church. In spite of the weather the church was completely filled.

The soloists this year were outstanding in expressing the depth of meaning and scope of musicianship demanded for this work. John McCullough opened the concert with the tenor solos: Comfort Ye My People and Every Valley Shall be Exalted; Robert Messenger did the bass solos: Thus Saith the Lord; But Who May Abide the Day of His Coming; For Behold, Darkness Shall Cover the Earth; and The People that Walked in Darkness.

Miss June Van Der Zee, alto, sang Behold, a Virgin Shall Conceive; O Thou that Teldest Good Tidings to Zion; Miss Geraldine Peters, alto, Then Shall the Eyes of the Blind be Opened; and He Shall Feed His Flock Like a Shepherd. Mrs. William Plimley, There Were Shepherds Abiding in the Field; And lo! the Angel of the Lord Came Upon Them; And Suddenly There Was with the Angel; Rejoice, Greatly O Daughter of Zion. Miss Betty LaTour sang, Come Unto Him, All Ye that Labor.

The chorus sang five of the choruses from the oratorio dealing with the Christmas story and also the Lift Up Your Heads, O Ye Gates; and the great Hallelujah Chorus. The ensemble was well balanced under the leading of George Fowler of Poughkeepsie, who conducts the Oratorio Society. Mrs. William Eltinge was at the organ playing the most difficult accompaniments.

This fine custom started last year will undoubtedly grow and could become a most glorious way to observe the coming of the Christmas season as more singers in the community catch the significance of the performance and join in singing.

Maroon Cagers Launch Season Against Beacon

Veteran Five Set for Opener

Coach G. Warren Kins' 21st Kingston High School basketball season opens Tuesday night against Beacon High on the municipal auditorium boards with the Maroon definitely established as DUSO League favorites and carrying over a 16-game winning streak from last season.

Beacon will have an advantage in playing condition but the Maroon is favored to launch another campaign on a note of triumph as veteran stalwarts like Big Ed Weaver, Mike Flanzo, Ken Lowe, Joe Albany and Bob Gheer prepare to haunt opposition.

Has 18 Pennants
Mr. Basketball, winner of 13 DUSO pennants in 20 years, announced this morning that the starting lineup would show Lowe and Flanzo at the forwards, Weaver, center, and Albany and Gheer at guards.

Harry Koch, varsity football center and co-captain who normally would expect to see considerable action, is still hobbling around with a leg injury incurred in the Thanksgiving Day game against Newburgh and has appeared in only a few practice sessions.

Not at Peak
Kins said the club would not approach normal playing form until around Christmas time. He pointed out that the footballers, who form the bulk of the varsity squad, are still sluggish due to tightened muscles incurred in body contact in football.

Beacon has played three games to date, winning two, but has not shown enough power to rate serious consideration against Kingston but Coach Kins has been talking down overconfidence in the Maroon camp.

Laraine Cancels Contract to Be With Lippy Leo

Santa Monica, Calif., Dec. 8 (AP)—Wherever Leo Durocher goes, there Actress Laraine Day is going, also, and an abrogated film contract with plentiful ciphers stood today as proof of her intentions.

Miss Day, whose marriage to the articulate baseball man has been best by many adverse influences from without, announced that she has canceled her six-year contract with R-K-O studios so that she can be with Durocher, newly-reinstated manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers during the coming major league baseball season.

The beautiful actress did not disclose how much the contract would have netted her. One movie columnist set the figure arbitrarily at a million dollars, and the way film salaries run, that doesn't seem much out of line.

"I'll follow the Dodgers as long as Leo is with them," reporters were told by Miss Day, who, until her romance with Durocher, professed not the slightest interest in baseball. She said her plans included accompanying Durocher to the Dodgers' spring training camp about March 3.

"There'll be no pictures during the baseball season," said the actress, adding that she might accept some film commitments during the winter.

She disclosed that she and Durocher plan to be married again after her divorce from airport executive Ray Hendricks becomes final. Her marriage to Durocher after a supplementary Mexican divorce incurred a Los Angeles judge's ire and led to a certain amount of judicial censure and the ultimatum that they'd better not live together in California until the local decree was final.

Leo arrived here early yesterday from New York, and Miss Day greeted him at the airport.

Durocher, under suspension for the 1947 season, said he was feeling very good over his reappointment and that he thought he is "going to manage the best baseball team in the business."

Pepperdine Halfback Shares Scoring Lead
New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—Darwin Horn of Pepperdine bucked over a touchdown in his final game against Loyola of Los Angeles Saturday to earn a tie with Chuck Schoenherr of Wheaton (Ill.) College for the 1947 collegiate football scoring title.

They wound up with identical records—19 touchdowns and one point after touchdowns in nine games for 115 points.

Legionnaire Five Set For Oklahoma Indians

The original Oklahoma Indians, billed as the world's most colorful basketball team, are the Wednesday night pro attraction at the municipal auditorium this week, as the refurbished Kingston Legionnaires seek their third victory of the season.

Impressive in their 48-46 triumph over the powerful Millerton cagers, and definitely bolstered by the addition of Don Ross and Danny McGrane, the Legionnaires face the game with confidence.

Full-blooded Indians recruited from outstanding southwest high schools and colleges, the Oklahoma Redskins are described as tricky, high scoring basketballers, who feature fancy pass work, clever shooting, feinting and dribbling.

Will Put On Show
The Indians will entertain in the auditorium crowd with a tribal war dance and will smoke the peace pipe before the game.

Having organized before the war, the Indians have played from coast to coast, and in the 1946-47 season the Oklahoma tri-tribesmen played 114 games before 37,850 spectators.

Every player is known by his tribal name and thus you find such worthies as Fleet Foot, Flying Duck, Old Crow, Thunder Bull, Heap O'Bird, Yellow Pony, etc.

The Legionnaires' brilliant comeback against Millerton, avowedly the finest club in the Hudson valley, after a 37-37 debacle against Ralph Banca's Dodgers sent Legion hopes soaring for effective basketball the remainder of the season. Tommy Maines' imminent return to the lineup also is expected to add scoring punch and defensive power to a unit that is only starting to show its real power.

Valley Keglers Sweep Eight Games in Sunday Competition

Thirteen Teams Stay Unbeaten

Kingston's Hudson Valley keggers came within a game of sweeping three matches Sunday, Hynes Shoes and Van Kleek's topping Port Jervis and Saugerties, while Hotel Ulsters won a 2-1 decision in Pine Bush.

Fred Rice and Charlie Grunenwald paced Van Kleek's, with 610 and 621 respectively. Grunenwald strung games of 214, 205 and 202 while Rice shot 211 and 245 after a 183 opener. Lance Martin's 214-565 was high for Saugerties.

Charlie Manfro and Larry Weishaupt had 631 and 625 to spark Hynes against Port Jervis. Manfro clustered strikes for 222-206 and 203, while Weishaupt had a pair of 225's flanking a 175. John MacLellan shot 223 and Frank Spada 213. J. Oswick rolled 214-222-583; Lee Fellows 201; Jack Corrado 213-581 for Port.

Johnny Schatzel's 206-578 paced Ulsters to a squeaker over Pine Bush in a low scoring duel on the latter's drives. Johnny Ferraro had 526. Pete Delmonico led Pine Bush with 535.

Brisk Trading Expected at Major Meeting

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—The annual major league conclave does not officially begin until tomorrow, but the baseball David Harms may beat the gun with announcement of the all-but-closed three-way deal involving Dixie Walker of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Billy Cox of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Eddie Waitkus of the Chicago Cubs.

That is only one of at least a half dozen transactions of major importance that may be completed at the three-day sessions here.

Sparks are expected to fly when the magnates take up clarification of the rule restricting tampering with high school players. It was this rule which touched off the Leslie O'Connor rumpus when he signed the Chicago White Sox general manager $500 for signing a high school youth. For a while O'Connor refused to pay the fine and threatened to carry the case to the courts, but finally yielded when the American League owners upheld the fine.

The Pacific Coast again will present its plea for big league recognition at Thursday's joint meeting. Should the majors refuse, as is likely, Coast President Clarence Rowland will seek a compromise, requesting a major-minor classification which would place the P.C.L. just under the big leagues and over the two other Triple A's.

Other matters to come before the majors are consideration of the St. Louis Browns' plea for unlimited night baseball and further discussion of a college coaches' plan to outlaw signing of college players until their class has graduated.

Farley Will Help
New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—If he is a candidate in next year's presidential campaign, President Truman will have the support of James A. Farley, who guided the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt through two successful campaigns for the presidency and then broke with him over the third term issue. The former Democratic national chairman gave his approval last night to the chief executive's possible candidacy with the statement "I want to see President Truman reelected."

Canadians Drink More
The average daily consumption of milk by each Canadian rose to about 1.01 pints in 1946 compared with 0.74 pints 26 years ago.

By BILL BECKER

Los Angeles, Dec. 8 (AP)—Two topics seem certain to keep the football hot stove circuit sizzling long through the winter: Is the Notre Dame team which skewered Southern California, 38-7, Saturday the greatest ever to represent the South Bend school? Can Michigan's big nine champions be as good as the 1947 Irish?

Some sort of an answer to the second question may be had January 1 when Michigan meets Southern California—ah, those reckless Trojans!—in the Rose Bowl. But the answer probably will come too late to do the Wolverines much good.

Irish Stun Coast
As far as west coast experts are concerned, Notre Dame is national champion, although the final Associated Press ballot isn't out yet.

Most veteran observers agreed with Coach Frank Leahy that it "was perhaps the greatest game a Notre Dame team has ever played." And most went further than Leahy, who refused to rate his 1947 squad ahead of the 1930 team—the last all-winning Irish Club. On that team, incidentally, Leahy played tackle.

The resounding victory—Trojan heads are ringing yet—gave the South Bend ramblers a clean sweep of a nine-game schedule, and 281 points total to opponents' 82.

The Irish win was a throwback to Rockne's methods. Long Breakaway runs did it after an inspired Trojan band held the Ramblers to a 10-7 margin at halftime.

Sitko Goes 76
On the first scrimmage play of the second half, Emil Sitko bounced off tackle and ran 76 yards for the score that saved the Trojan Horse. Later as U.S.C. tried desperately to get that one back and fell short on the Irish eight yard line, Bob Livingston picked up the marbles with a 52-yard end run.

There were two other second half touchdowns—John Panelli's five-yard buck and sub tackle Alf Zwijski's 30-yard sprint with an intercepted lateral.

The Irish scored first on a 13-yard field goal by Fred Farley, who later added five conversions, and made it 10-0 on a 18-yard drive, Sitko scoring from the one.

The Trojans bounced back after Jim Powers intercepted a Johnny Lujack pass to march 44 yards with Powers, Gordon Gray and Jack Kirby starring. Kirby went over from the eight.

But U.S.C. fight dissolved before Irish might after Coach Leahy's halftime oration.

"I just reminded the Seniors they wouldn't have another chance to play on an undefeated Notre Dame team," Leahy said. "That's all."

Council, by Strict

Alderman Oulton said he had decided not to favor two-hour meters "because of the discrimination." He said that there are retail businesses in the Governor Clinton hotel, which are just like any other retail business. He pointed out there is a barber shop, tailor shop, gift shop, tea room, and a cocktail lounge.

Speaks for Schneider

Alderman Carroll received courtesy of the floor for George Schneider, of G. A. Schneider & Son, jewelers. Schneider said he'd been talking with other central businessmen, and they would object to having any meters taken off Broadway. "If you'd check, you'd find they take in money," he said.

Schneider said he had asked about half of his customers what they think of the meters, and hasn't found one per cent against them.

Also allowed privilege of the floor was Henry Singer, dry goods merchant of 60 Broadway, who said he was not speaking officially for any group of merchants, but from his observation he felt that most of the downtown group "seem to like them."

Alderman Roth said that Singer had been invited to attend the special meeting held by the committee the previous Friday, but never came. Roth wanted to know why the persons favoring the meters did not attend that meeting.

A fact brought out by both sides was no records were kept on the receipts of the individual meters, or of any separate groups of meters, so there was no sure way of telling which meters took in the most money.

When the vote on the committee report was taken, the report was rejected, with seven Democratic councilmen voting against it and five Republicans voting in favor.

Alderman Oulton then offered a resolution that "said meters as they are now installed be accepted by the city of Kingston and made permanent," and that the Dual Parking Meter Company of Canton, Ohio, be advised of the fact.

Amendment Voted Down
Alderman Zucca immediately offered an amendment providing that 500 of the meters be accepted, five to seven.

A motion to table Oulton's resolution was made by Zucca and rejected by the same vote. Then Oulton's motion was carried by a vote of seven to five.

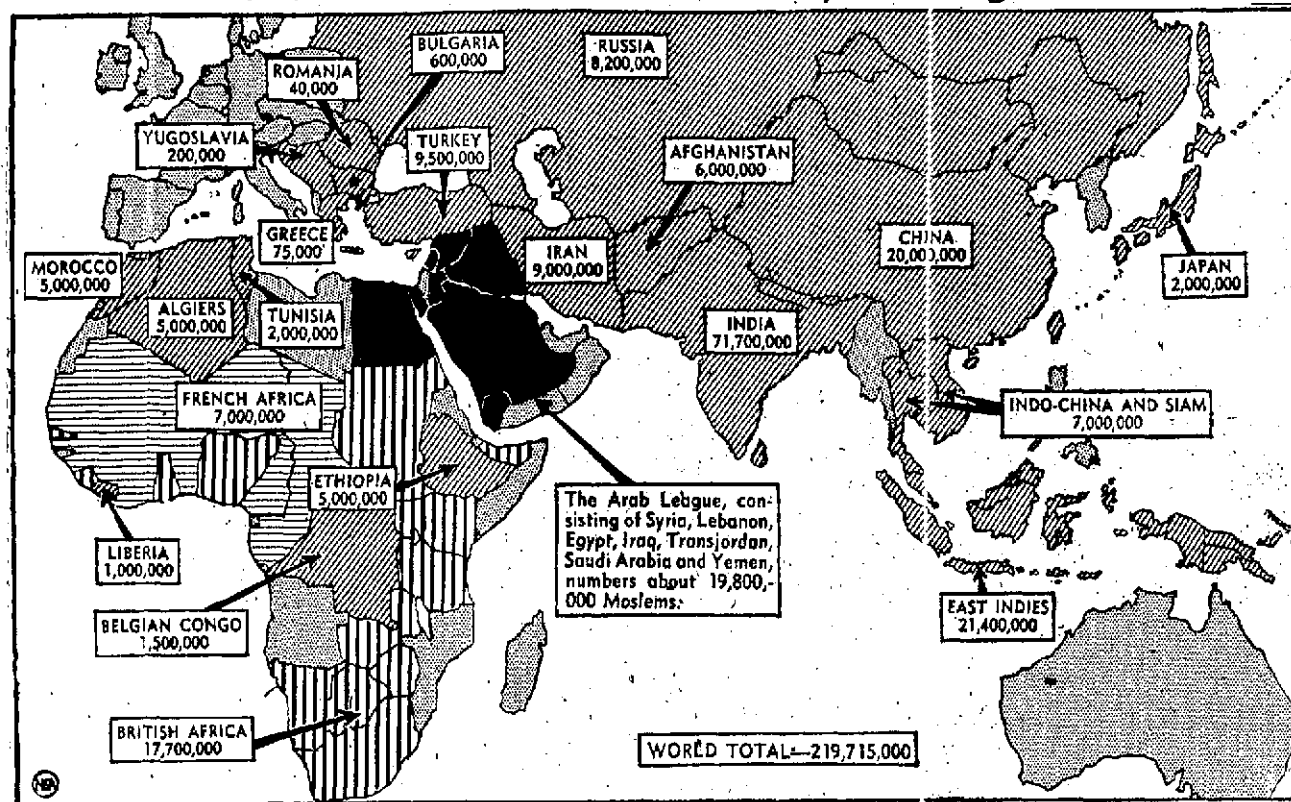

An ordinance amending the parking meter ordinance and providing to parking meters on Clinton avenue from Pearl to Main streets, and on North Front street from Fair to Clinton avenue, was passed, again by a party vote. The meters provided for in this amendment have already been installed, but were not mentioned in the original ordinance.

Recommendations

The report of the special committee which was rejected by the council, recommended:

1. Cancellation of the present contract with the Dual Parking Meter Company.
2. That a new contract be nego-

The Moslem World Hears Call for 'Holy War' Against Jews

Map above shows the principal areas having large Moslem populations, to whom the holy men of 1000-year-old al-Azhar University in Cairo, Egypt, issued a call for all Moslems throughout the world to embark on a jihad or "holy war" to fight partition of Palestine. Their statement declared the jihad is an "unconditional obligation." Figures on map give approximate number of Moslems.

Wicks, Aides Meet With Governor on Program for '48

Albany, N. N., Dec. 8 (AP)

Governor Dewey and his top administrative aides met today with Republican legislative leaders to discuss the 1948 legislative program and the new state budget.

James C. Hagerty, Dewey's executive assistant, said further details probably would be forthcoming after the session, the third Dewey has had with legislative and administrative chiefs in recent weeks.

Dewey, in an attempt to keep a record 1948 state budget below an estimated $800,000,000 has ordered state departments to make an over-all slash of nine per cent in requests for departmental appropriations.

Hagerty did not disclose specific subjects under discussion, saying merely that "the budget and the entire legislative program were being reviewed."

Meeting with Dewey, he said, were Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck; State Senator Arthur H. Wicks; Senate Financial Committee Chairman Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens; Assembly Ways and Means Chairman; Budget Director John Burton; Charles D. Breitell, Dewey's counsel; State Comptroller Frank C. Moore and Paul E. Lockwood, Dewey's secretary.

Girl, 13, Is Sought; Gone Since Wednesday

Investigation of the report that Dorothy Mautone, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luigi Mautone of Linderman avenue extension, has been missing from her home since last Wednesday, brought no results over the week-end Sheriff George C. Smith reported today.

Information obtained to date, however, indicated that the girl might have left the city by bus, which also had been notified, reported that messages sent out from there last week have brought no results.

The local police department, which also had been notified, reported that messages sent out from there last week have brought no results.

The girl is described as five feet, one inch tall, weighing about 130 pounds, has brown eyes and hair and a scar on her chin. She wore blue slacks, white socks and a light blue coat when last seen.

Four Cars Damaged When Two Collide; Hit Parked Autos

Damage was reported to four cars as a result of an accident at Ten Broeck avenue and Cornell street at 2 p. m. Saturday, according to the police. Two of the cars were parked along the curb on Ten Broeck avenue, and two other cars collided at the intersection, ramming the parked cars, investigating officers, Elbert Soper and Ernest Bartroff of the Kingston Police Department reported.

The parked cars belonged to James C. Rigney, 2 South Washington avenue, city, and Max Machel, 137 Greenkill avenue, Helen M. Baum, Passaic, N. J., was driving west on Cornell street, when she collided with a car operated south on Ten Broeck avenue by James Wheeler of 192 Ten Broeck, knocking the Wheeler car against the Rigney car, which in turn was knocked against the Machel car. Patrolman Soper reported.

There were no personal injuries, police said, but considerable damage was done to the Rigney car to the fenders, grill, bumper, head lights, muffler and tail pipe. The other cars received lesser damage, police reported.

along by strong winds was moving across Lake Huron today into Canada after leaving a layer of snow from three to six inches of new snow along its course through northwestern Iowa; northeastern Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan.

The forerunner of the predicted increasing cold for the midwest had reached as far as the Texas Panhandle this morning, where temperatures dipped to freezing. Snow flurries were forecast for most of the Great Lakes Region today, but temperatures were expected to remain at least slightly above zero tonight.

Elsewhere throughout the nation temperatures were described as "about normal."

of comparable size with Kingston, and WHEREAS it has been found that the salary of the Superintendent of the Board of Public Works in Kingston, in comparison with cities of like size and with comparable responsibilities, is inadequate, and

WHEREAS Ernest A. Steuding has under his direct supervision the largest sub-division of the city government in both finances and employees, and WHEREAS Ernest A. Steuding averages ten active hours per day normally, and often 12 to 14 hours on considerable occasions both during the highway construction and snow removal periods, and

WHEREAS Ernest A. Steuding has greatly improved the efficiency of the Department of Public Works in all divisions and particularly in highway construction and reconstruction to an extent never exceeded previously during a like period, and

WHEREAS the Commissioners of the Board of Public Works of the city of Kingston, realizing the capabilities and value of Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, agree he should be paid a salary commensurate with his demonstrated ability and responsibility.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the salary of the classification of position of superintendent of the Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston be adjusted so as to establish a new minimum of $5,700 and a maximum of $6,000 with increments of $200 per year due January 1, each year, and this adjustment be effective November 15, 1947.

A copy of this resolution was sent to the Municipal Civil Service Commission for their approval and adoption, the minutes state.

Such approval, however, is not mandatory to the granting of the raise, since the Board of Public Works commissioners have the sole power to grant such a raise.

They Get a Kick Out of Art

After visiting the Louvre in Paris and studying works by Edgar Degas, famed for his paintings and etchings of ballet dancers, two Folles Bergeres girls return to the theater and try to imitate the artist's subjects. The Folles dance director takes the girls out in group tours to study classic poses in noted works of art. Photo by NEA-Acme cor. respondent Jean-Philippe Caron.

Eaton Is Elected President of Center By Jewish Group

HERMAN EATON

Herman Eaton has been elected the first permanent president of the Kingston Jewish Center. He has been active in communal and civic affairs in Kingston for many years.

Eaton was the second president of B'nai B'rith when it was first organized in Kingston and has served successfully as the advisor to the Aleph Zadik Aleph, a boy's youth group for Kingston. Since his return from the armed forces he has not only continued his activities with B'nai B'rith and other communal groups but as treasurer of the Jewish Center Committee, he has helped to form the permanent organization of the Jewish Center.

Serving with Eaton as first vice president will be Dr. Sigmund Rudisch. Dr. Rudisch has been untiring in his efforts for more than 10 years to help bring about the actual establishment of a Community Center in Kingston. Herman Rafalowsky was elected.

35,000 Former U. S. Officers Face Tests

Those With Disabilities Will Be Examined Periodically

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—Compulsory re-examination of more than 35,000 former officers retired for physical disabilities loomed today, along with the possibility that some might be due for cuts in their tax-free retirement pay.

The public is invited to attend the program on Sunday night and to be guests at the reception which will follow.

disclosed that an army-navy personnel board has recommended that all persons now retired for physical reasons be re-examined, and that they be required to take periodic re-examinations in the future.

In addition, the board suggested that compensation for physical disability be related to the percentage of actual disability, rather than a flat three-fourths of base pay.

The percentage system is the one in use by the Veterans Administration which handles payments to those whose disability occurred after their retirement.

Forrestal made known the personnel board's recommendations in an interim report last night to President Truman.

The Chief Executive, after the case of retired Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers flared into headlines at a congressional hearing last month; asked for a full list of all officers retired for disability since V-J Day. Later, he asked the service to take steps to avoid such retirements from developing into "a possible racket."
